

Runner Runner

Words & Music by Lance Frank

(c) 2006 Lance Frank All Rights Reserved

It was a Saturday night I had nothin' else to do.
Got tired of sittin' 'round watchin' poker on the tube.

I got in my car, head out on the road.
A couple miles down I saw a jamin' cah -see - no.

I went on inside, got right in a game,
but the first hand they dealt me nearly drove me insane with

Runner Runner
He got there on the end!

Runner Runner
I had the best hand until then!

Runner Runner
You called me with that?

You chased me to the river and pulled it from your hat?
Damn!

Pulled out my wallet. Bought in again.
A poker room 'aint no place to make any friends.

They dealt me pocket rockets, American Airlines.
I built a monster pot I thought would surely be mine.

Nuts on the flop, nuts on the turn,
but down by the river my aces were burned by

Runner Runner
He did it again!

Runner Runner
Aw, he got there on the end!

Runner Runner
You better take my advice (alt You know it 'aint right)

If the cards are cold you better call it a night!

Don't get crazy. Don't be no fool.
A poker face 'aint somethin' you can learn in school.

Sometimes you win and a sometimes you loose.
If the sharks don't getcha it's the women and the booze.

Well, I 'aint no gambler. Got me a steady job, but I'd be surely damned if I'd take this from that slob!

They dealt me in again, an ace and a ten.
I raised the pot before the flop on this I'd go all in.

Limped on in, then I checked and I raised.
and on the last two cards I learned that patience pays 'cause

Runner Runner
I did it to him!

Runner Runner
An inside straight on the end!

Runner Runner
Well like it or not,
the best hand in poker is the one that wins the pot!

Runner Runner
(spoken) Nice hand! Thanks!

Runner Runner
(spoken) Better lucky than good! I'll say!

Runner Runner
(spoken) I can't believe you play that garbage!

Me? Look who's talkin'! (etc...)

Runner Runner
(repeat and fade)
